Book: Chemical Process Dynamics and Controls (Under Construction)

This textbook is a student-contributed open-source text covering the materials used in a senior level controls course. The authors cover a variety of approaches to reduce or manage this uncertainty through the use of robust designs, dynamic systems theory, nonlinear dynamics, control theory, and statistics.

- Front Matter
- No image available1: Overview
- No image available2: Modeling Basics
- No image available3: Sensors and Actuators
- No image available4: Piping and Instrumentation Diagrams
- No image available5: Logical Modeling
- No image available6: Modeling Case Studies
- No image available7: Mathematics for Control Systems
- No image available8: Optimization
- No image available9: Proportional-Integral-Derivative (PID) Control
10: Dynamical Systems Analysis
• No image available

11: Control Architectures
• No image available

12: Multiple Input, Multiple Output (MIMO) Control
• No image available

13: Statistics and Probability Background
• No image available

14: Design of Experiments
• No image available

Back Matter
•